Seasons pass swiftly and another year has come and gone. Each season, filled with memories, is represented in picture. These pictures stay new, though years grow old.

The reign of a Senior is short-lived compared to the waiting expectations of a Freshman. Each Senior will remember the friendship, accomplishments, and knowledge attained in his brief four years.

Underclassmen will have this and more years in which to recall high school memories.

The Edisonian has attempted to capture the story of the year with pictures of the people and events that made this year special.

Humorous Moments Highlight Each Day

WILLIAM J. WOOLSEY
English, B.S. Indiana University

Good Leaders Assist First Rate Float

The Senior Class Officers are President, Bettie Moore; Vice Pres., Michelle Shimel; Secretary, Doug Twilla; Treasurer, Brenda Rock; Girl Rep., Peggy Honkoski; Not pictured Boy Rep., Mike Rubino.

The Senior Homeroom Representatives are Laura Bellar, Pam Hoyt, Karen Cook, Debbie Templeton, Janet Wolfe, and Nick Novakovich.

The class of "71" can trace its progress through the years from lonely freshmen to the superior status of seniors.

Leaders the past year were Bettie Moore, president; Michelle Shimel, vice-president; Doug Twilla, secretary; Brenda Rock, treasurer; Peggy Honkoski, girl representative; and Mike Rubino, boy representative.

The seniors began the year constructing the homecoming float which placed first in the float competition. The E-Men nominated five attractive young ladies to reign over the homecoming proceedings.

Some of the highlights of high school days were changes in the dress code, ordering class rings, getting ready for the prom, the post prom, senior pictures, competition for class status, and above all, the many friendships that will linger.

The seniors leave, but the chant of "71" will echo in the halls and will always be remembered.

The Winning Senior Float was better known "As the Spit Turns the Ingot Burns".

Juniors' Responsibilities Now Begin

Junior class officers are: Anna Ennis (pres), Garry Szostek (vice-pres), Fondy Morrill (sec), JoAnn Novkovic (treas), Pete Odinson (boy-rep), Doris Mercer (girl-rep).

Homeroom representatives are Kenny Flores, Martha Williams, Karen Kingery, Denise Potts, and Bob Humenik.

Ready to face change, the juniors approached the beginning of the school year with enthusiasm. Several projects including bake sales, car washes, as well as sock hops helped enlarge the treasury fund for the prom. The theme selected was "A Time for Us." It was a very romantic evening for all attending.

Planning to further education was the main decision of the year. Ability tests and applications had to be filed with colleges.

Towards the close of the year, senior rank was anticipated by all.

Knowledge is Major Goal in Learning

Sophomore Class Officers are President, Patti Barth; Vice Pres., Debbie Herring; Secretary, Vicky Paulk; Girl Rep., Mary Dobyns; Boy Rep., Terry Barth; Not pictured Treasurer, Rochelle Reames.

Class of 73' display thier talents.

The sophomore realizes that work as well as play is required in school.

New status brings on new responsibilities. Choosing a career and taking courses that will aid their future are two responsibilities.

Ordering classrings, going to sock hops, attending athletic events, and G.A.A. initiation, without being the initiated were some of the good times. There were bad times too, but they will soon be forgotten.

Home room representatives are Cathy Bayer, Joel Martin, Art Hartley, Trudy Rosser, Margene Kurpis, Steve Strinchack, John Ramsey, Larry Courtney.

Lunch hour is enjoyed by the Sophomores after many hours of tedious work.

Leadership Begins in a Freshman Year

The Victory Bell of the Freshmen rang success for the Fighting Eagles.

The young and unsuspecting freshman faces a frightening experience as he begins his first year of high school.

For the freshmen it was a year to remember . . . initiation comprised of pigtails, simulated freckles and cut-off pants; getting used to new teachers; joining new and different clubs; and making new friends.

The adjustments came slowly, but soon the freshmen were old hands at the hectic procedures of activities and advanced academics became second nature.

Homeroom representatives are Kathy Travis, Sally Lundy, Ted Watts, and Jim Ring.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 15.5 million by 2020, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 8.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the UK. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently and actively.
- Older people should be able to access the services and support they need.
- Older people should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.
- Older people should be able to live in a safe and secure environment.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including:

- To improve the health and well-being of older people.
- To improve the social and economic participation of older people.
- To improve the living conditions of older people.
- To improve the protection of older people.

The strategy is a key document in the development of policy for older people in the UK. It provides a framework for the development of legislation, policy, and practice. It also provides a basis for the evaluation of the effectiveness of services for older people.
